WE FOCUS ON

renewable energy

SOLAR

Solar energy is known as one of the most scalable of all renewable energies and Finergreen's core expertise among renewables. Offering a complete variety of project expertise, Finergreen's strategy is flexible to fit all types of solar industry needs including, on-grid / off-grid and contract structure such as feed-in tariff, PPA and merchant.

STORAGE

Storage is a cornerstone to sustainable development within renewable energy and a substitute to conventional energy. Finergreen is actively promoting new business models such as battery storage, hybrid systems or pumped-storage plants.

WIND

Wind power has been utilized by humans for many centuries and understood as one of the fastest and innovating technologies. Focusing on project finance, Finergreen has been at the cutting-edge of finance practices working continuously with wind transactions at a global scale.

BIOMASS

Biomass including Biogas and Waste to Energy are key components for sustainable energy production. Deposited in a landfill or utilized in a biomass operation, organic materials deliver power on a 24/7 and full load basis. Since establishment, Finergreen has been strongly committed to accelerating the development of this industry by leading several challenging projects to financial close.

HYDRO

Hydropower generates today most of the world's renewable electricity and is still to be deployed in many countries especially in Africa where Finergreen has developed a strong expertise in impactful run-of-rivers projects.
